MONDAY BVENING, MARCH 18

Congress has just appropriated money for monument to a Virginia ju lge. Virginia judges were once the mest respected people not only in the State but in the whole country, and their decisions were authoritative throughout the land. But a sad change has taken place in them. Few now receive respect, and fewer still deserve it. Most of the good ones have been retired and limits of his own State. All these expectations their places been filled with myn whose only required qualifications were that they once opened and the General being susceptible to human law book and were readjusters. So low has the juliciary been degraded, that cleating gamblers, men who work the "l'zard," have seen elevated to the bench. What Virginia little unimportant postmasters the only federal judg sare, under readjuster sway, alas, is too patronage that has so far been bestowed upon well known know to Virginians to require men-tioning; what Northern people think of them and Lynchburg and the Attorneyship of the may be imagined from the following extract Western District of Virginia, in all of which from a letter in The Nation.

"Scores upon scores of judges have been and are being removed from the bench, and their would probably have taken places are being filled with not only partisan, but not made his bargain with the republicans,—ignorant men. The Readjuster party has not The President may be going to do something the material in its ranks to fill with competent for him in the future, but up to this time he persons the vacancies it creates. Our constitution provides that such a judge shall be learned in the law,' and yet the judge of Albermarle county had not so much as read a neader to $4 a thousand; special license fax will be reduced one half, and the taxes on bank checks, bank deposits, matches this position was elected a man who was qualified neither by abilities nor by attainments. Our marle county had not so much as read a page of Blackstone in his life when elevated to the bench. We considered cursolves fortunate, however, in getting him, as he is an honest mar; for the person whom the Readjuster caucus had not proposed by the him was of a character more. nominated before him was of a character more fitting culprit than judge. The representative from this county had evidence on the floor of the House to show that he was a horse thief I use my own county as an illustration; other counties are not so fortunate as Albemaria."

The Senate Committee on Indian Affaire, despite the carnest prayers and catrestics of the Indians, has determined to report favorably a bill for giving them lands in severalty, and for extending over them the laws of the territories the Indians are to have the responsibilities of citizanship thrust upon them against their will, and while they are utterly without the means of meeting them. The bill is a move of the land sharks, for after every head of an Indian family Hill, and is a democratic-readjuster. has been given one hundred and sixty acres, there will be millions of acres left, to seize which they have already laid their plans. The once will not accept the position of Associate Justice of the Supremo Court. St. Jeromo will have been of the little that has been left them. If come of Lord Respos's leavings. bed of the little that has been left them, retribution be inevitable, a heavy hand will be laid upon the American people for their treatment of the Ir disns.
